Choosing Competition Boules

Bounce

Diameter

Steel Type

Solid Stainless Steel

Top range products with longer life span and provides 'soft' feel

Coated Carbon Steel

Provides 'rough' feel and black coating gradually wears off due to friction

Striations

Pointers prefer boules with striations for better 'grip' or adherence on difficult ground while Shooters prefer smooth boules because it does not 'catch' in the hand

BECOME A SHOOTING ACE

Become a real champion thanks to this game and the FIPJP* competition precision shooting events.

WHAT YOU NEED:

Contents of the set :

- ▶ 2 black boules (obstacles)
- ▶ 1 white boule (target)
- ▶ 1 jack

- ▶ Your usual 3-boule set

HOW TO PLAY:

Play alone: to practise your skills | Play in a group: to challenge each other

Aim : Throw the white target boule or the jack, depending on the event. Each time you hit the target, you score from 0 to 5 points. Score as many points as you can to win the challenge.

The 5 events take place at 4 distances, 6, 7, 8 and 9 metres between the start zone and the shooting zone.

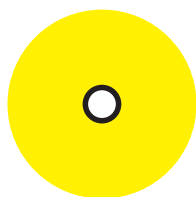

You have one shooting boule per distance, so 4 boules per event.

Start with event 1 at a distance of 6 m and go up to 9 m, then go on to the next event.

Each player shoots in turn.
